

*Business Automation
Powered by the Internet*

What is so special about Business Manager Web?

- Provides global access to information

Traditional systems provide you with information only through the computer terminals in your office. Business Manager provides you and your employees with information at the office, store, home, laptop, cell-phone, Palm and any other Internet based appliance. So you don't have to be physically at work to take advantage of your system's information and services. With Business Manager you have access to information and services everywhere you go.

- Cheaper cost of ownership and use

With Business Manager you do not have to invest money to purchase and install a copy of the software in your office just to be able to use it. Instead of a large upfront investment, you pay a low monthly fee for its use, upgrade, maintenance and support. All your technology needs in one low fixed monthly payment.

- Lower required investment in hardware to use the program

Leading edge web-based technology drives the new Business Manager Web. World's largest corporations and banks use oracle products and database. Sites such as cnn.com and amazon.com are all supported by Oracle. Same power is provided for all Business Manager Web clients. Therefore there is no need for you to install an expensive "Server" in your office. World's most powerful server is at your disposal and in charge of your company's crucial data. All that you need is a connection to Internet.

- Better system security and reliability

As more companies connect to the Internet for email, e-commerce and other benefits, they are vulnerable to security risks. Once your office is connected to the Internet, it does not matter where your data resides (on your own server or on the web), it is subject to security threats. Usually, companies purchase inexpensive security products that do not provide adequate protection. Business Manager Web utilizes the most advanced web security products available in the market today in order to ensure continuous system and database protection.

- Expand your business with features such as: wireless, e-commerce, B2B, email, EDI and more

Having your program and database on the Internet provides you with features never available before. Your product information and pricing can be made available to potential clients on the Internet using the e-commerce module. Invoices, statements, order confirmations, purchase orders and all other business documents can be emailed, faxed or interchanged (EDI) using Business Manager Web.

How can I have more information about Business Manager Web?

- Online demos and presentations are available on the Internet

You can view online presentations of the Business Manager Web software at www.mybmweb.com. Please make sure your computer has a sound card with speakers since the presentations include audio.

The site also enables you to request and schedule a 30-minute demo of Business Manager over the Internet.

For more information and pricing

Please contact Mr. Corey Fazel at (514) 369-7955, ext: 100.

*Business Automation
Powered by the Internet*

Why should I choose Business Manager Web?

- Because you need a competitive edge in today's economy.

Times and economy of business are changing. Larger companies are spending millions everyday to improve their automation systems in order to gain a competitive advantage over their rivals. Systems not only have to automate operations within the company, but also operations outside the company. Old fashioned packages specialize in automating operations within the company but are crippled when it comes to automation of operations outside the company since their data and services are localized to company premises only.

By deploying leading edge web based technology, Business Manager securely houses your information and provides you with global access to your data not only from your office, but also your home, stores, laptop, Palm, POS device and anywhere your require information and services. Furthermore, since your business services are no longer confined by your office walls, Business Manager automates business transactions with customers, suppliers and business partners.

- Because you can provide better service for your customers.

Companies are taking advantage of new technology to solidify customer relationships and provide additional services to increase sales and extend their market share. By not being localized to your office, Business Manager offers valuable services to your customers. Your customers can access stock information, pricing, place orders, track orders, view their statement and much more using a simple Browser.

In today's competitive market customers demands faster and better service. Business Manager provides you with the tools to meet your customer demands and succeed in business.

- Because you can benefit from the new features of the e-economy.

Yes, your company can save time and money by emailing purchase orders to suppliers, accessing up-to-date stock information on your Palm, centralizing replenishment and accounting functions, collaborating with your suppliers and all the other business tools that are now available.

These features may sound like a fairy tale to your competitors who are using old-fashioned legacy systems, but with Business Manager they can be a reality for your business.

- Because you don't have to take our word for it.

Old fashion systems require large initial capitol investment to purchase, install and configure, before you can test it for

How can I have more information about Business Manager Web?

- Online demos and presentations are available on the Internet

You can view online presentations of the Business Manager Web software at www.mybmweb.com. Please make sure your computer has a sound card with speakers since the presentations include audio.

The site also enables you to request and schedule a 30-minute demo of Business Manager over the Internet.

For more information and pricing

Please contact Mr. Corey Fazel at (514) 369-7955, ext: 100.

*Business Automation
Powered by the Internet*

Why should I pay a monthly fee for software?

- Because you have better things to do.

Your customers don't pay you for being a good computer technician. You make your living by being a good merchant, turning inventory and managing your company efficiently. Your time is more productive and profitable spent running your business. Business Manager removes all computer related burdens from your daily tasks and frees you to allocate more time and resources to your core business.

- Because you are tired of being bounced around for service.

Just imagine the pure joy of not ever having to witness a collection of computer technicians trying to solve your system related problems. One blames the other. The network installer points the finger at the hardware vendor. Hardware vendor blames the application provider and the application provider blames the operating system. The only victim in the middle is you, with a problem no one takes responsibility for nor can resolve.

With Business Manager you can say goodbye to technicians and computer related nightmares. You no longer have to maintain costly computer and network equipment and software just to be able to use your application. Your application is provided for you as a service eliminating all existing expensive and hard to maintain equipment and software.

- Because you are in business to save and make money.

Your automation system should not be an expense. It must be a valuable tool that helps propel your business forward everyday. Business Manager drastically reduces the Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) by eliminating all hardware, network, installation and on-site support expenses related to your computer system. Your system is your best ally and tool in business and is instrumental in helping you meet your business goals.

Business Manager provides you with the best in software, service and support for a low monthly fee. With Business Manager you never have to pay thousands of dollars for a copy of a software on a CD that involves high installation fees, expensive network and server equipment, high maintenance costs, frequent upgrades and bug fixes; which will be obsolete in a few years. Business Manager eliminates the extra fat and provides you with a powerful and functional software ready for use at a

How can I have more information about Business Manager Web?

- Online demos and presentations are available on the Internet

You can view online presentations of the Business Manager Web software at www.mybmweb.com. Please make sure your computer has a sound card with speakers since the presentations include audio.

The site also enables you to request and schedule a 30-minute demo of Business Manager over the Internet.

For more information and pricing

Please contact Mr. Corey Fazel at (514) 369-7955, ext: 100.