

Why should I choose Business Manager ?

- Because you need a competitive edge in today's economy.

Times and economy of business are changing. As a result, larger companies are spending millions everyday to improve their automation systems in order to gain a competitive advantage over their rivals. Systems not only have to automate operations within the company, but also operations outside the company. Old fashioned packages specialize in automating operations within the company but are crippled when it comes to automation of operations outside the company since their data and services are localized to company premises only.

By deploying leading edge web based technology, Business Manager securely houses your information and provides you with global access to your data not only from your office, but also your home, stores, laptop, Palm, POS device and anywhere you require information and services. Furthermore, since your business services are no longer confined by your office walls, Business Manager automates business transactions with customers, suppliers and business partners.

- Because you can provide better service for your customers.

Companies are taking advantage of new technology to streamline existing customer services and provide additional ones to increase sales and extend their market share. By not being localized to your office, Business Manager extends valuable services to your customers. Your customers can access stock information, pricing, place orders, track orders, view their statement and much more using a simple Browser.

In today's competitive market customers demands faster and better service. Business Manager provides you with the tools to meet your customer demands and succeed in business.

- Because you can benefit from the new features of the e-economy.

Yes, your company can save time and money by emailing purchase orders to suppliers, accessing up-to-date stock information on your Palm, stores acknowledging receipt of purchase orders using cell phones, centralizing replenishment and accounting functions, collaborating with your suppliers and all the other business tools that are now available.

These features may sound like a fairy tale to your competitors who are using old-fashioned legacy systems, but with Business Manager they can be a reality for your business. Business Manager provides the best of the web for your business.

- Because you don't have to take our word for it.

Old fashion systems require large initial capitol investment to purchase, install and configure, before you can test it for yourself. Business Manager is different. You can try

Business Manager for a or two trial period for a low monthly fee in order to witness its features and services for yourself first hand.
